

COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES

Arts and Sciences Home

Arts & Sciences News

Arts & Sciences News
Archive

About the College

Departments & Programs

SAGES

Contact Us

SEARCH ARTSCI NEWS:

RELATED SITES:

Alumni Relations >>

Blog@Case >>

Movable Type 3.121

ARTS & SCIENCES NEWS

December 01, 2005

Mather Spotlight Series Prize winners named

The first winners of the newly-created Mather Spotlight Series Prize for Women's Scholarship were recently named. One winner from each of the schools/colleges at Case was selected. Kathleen Kash, associate professor of Physics, was selected from the College of Arts and Sciences. Winners were chosen for their "outstanding research and leadership. The Awards are funded through the Mather Spotlight Series Endowment, established in 1989 by the Mather Centennial Celebration Committee of the Flora Stone Mather Alumnae Association. The winners were honored on December 1 at an award ceremony and reception on campus.

Additional winners include:

Kathleen Farkas, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Social Work, Mandel School of Applied Social Sciences

Marion Good, Ph.D., Professor of Nursing, Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing

Yiping Han, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Dental Medicine

Anne Hiltner, Ph.D., Professor of Macromolecular Science and Engineering, Case School of Engineering

Sharona Hoffman, J.D., LL.M., Professor of Law

Lisa M. Maillart, Associate Professor of Operations, Weatherhead School of Management

Patricia Marshall, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Bioethics, School of Medicine

For more information, visit

<http://www.case.edu/provost/centerforwomen/index.html>.

College of Arts & Sciences | 10900 Euclid Avenue | Cleveland, Ohio 44106 | Phone: 216.368.4413

© 2004 Case Western Reserve University | Cleveland, Ohio 44106 | 216.368.2000 | legal notice